FOREWORD

"Through these portals pass many a well known person." These words from our ancient linguistic history have many meanings attached to it.

Through these "portals" of Stockbridge Hall, on Commencement Day, will pass the graduating class of 1962. People who will be passing through those portals on that day will not be so well known then, but in a few years?

The purpose of a yearbook is to bring back fond memories of "school days" for untold years to come; we do hope that this yearbook will succeed in making this objective a true one.

This yearbook is your yearbook; keep it, cherish it, but in all use it, for it is your "portal" for bringing back those memories of college days.

DONALD E. ROSS
Assistant Professor of Floriculture

DEDICATION

We the class of 1962, would like to express our sincere appreciation to retiring, Professor of Floriculture Donald E. Ross by dedicating this 44th edition of our yearbook to him.

Following graduation from the University of Massachusetts with a B. S. degree, Mr. Ross joined the faculty in 1928 and for nearly four decades has taught thousands of students the principles of greenhouse management, floral design and the retail flower shop profession. For years, it has been the students, supervised by Mr. Ross, who devoted their time to supplying the Floriculture Shop at the annual Horticultural Show with beautiful bouquets and corsages.

He has always been able to convey to his students his genuine interest in them and their future as evidenced by the many alumni who always drop in for a visit when they return to campus.

French Hall won't seem the same without "Red" Ross. The Floriculture Club in expressing their esteem for him presented him with a complete fishing outfit at this year's Progress Banquet. We all extend to Mr. and Mrs. Ross our best wishes upon his retirement.

Below students Ivan Heath and Floriculture Club President Everett Emino are presenting gifts to Mr. Ross.

Administration

PRESIDENT
John W. Lederle

To the Graduates:

I wish to extend my congratulations to all members of this year's graduating class. The Stockbridge School is a prized part of our total University program, and it is always a pleasure for the President to salute the students who will soon be the School's newest alumni.

On graduation you will join an enthusiastic body of Stockbridge alumni. Their success and effectiveness after graduation convinced the Board of Trustees that graduates of the School eminently merit the degree of Associate in Agriculture which was awarded for the first time last year.

I am certain that each of you, as our new Associates in Agriculture, will undertake your work with high competence and devotion to the ideal of service inculcated during your two years at the University.

I congratulate you again and wish you every success.

PROVOST
Gilbert L. Woodside

It is a distinct pleasure for me to send greetings to the 1962 Shorthorn. During my first two or three years as a member of the faculty, it was my privilege to teach a Stockbridge course called General Biology. I am proud to say that some of the students in this course were among the best I have ever taught. At least two of them later transferred to the four-year program, finally entered graduate school, and eventually earned Ph.D. degrees.

I have always been convinced that the Stockbridge School is an important integral part of the University of Massachusetts. It is entirely fitting and proper that the quality of the work is now recognized by the awarding of the Associate in Agriculture degree.

It is a pleasure to me to extend very best wishes to each member of the Class of 1962.

DEAN AND DIRECTOR
Arless A. Spielman

When those of us who make a career of education look at our graduating students, we can't help wondering how well we have done our job. And yet — difficult as a solid answer may often be — we who have worked with you in the Stockbridge School can't help feeling some degree of fulfillment. In looking over the details of your immediate future — covered by the word "Placement" in your yearbook — I see that most of you are following a path that leads directly from what you have studied to what can be satisfying life's work. In industry, public service, and even in the smallest business, you are launching a career in a fast-growing field.

Since the facts and figures for your yearbook were compiled well in advance of graduation, there is proof enough for all of us that you are well enough prepared in your specialty to be able to step into an interesting job within days of graduation. For this reason alone, we have the fond hope that we have done our job, and we have the same faith in your ability to do yours.

DIRECTOR
Fred P. Jeffery

It has been my privilege to become well acquainted with a larger number of students in the Class of 1962 than has been true in former years. In particular, let me mention the enthusiastic STOSAG board which is responsible for the yearbook. The SHORTHORN editors deserve special credit for initiating and publishing a weekly news sheet.

It is difficult to generalize in selecting a characteristic common to all Stockbridge students and, yet, if a choice is made I would say that most of them know how to DO things. I will close with a quotation from Elliot Kimball — "Your success, henceforward, will depend in considerable measure upon the manner in which you employ that handy tool: your HEAD. I would urge that the best recommendation you can provide for yourself, and for your alma mater, will derive from remembering: 'The head may be used for purposes other than a hat-rack.'"

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

"Had any experience?", this is a terrifying question to a young person seeking his first full time job, but employers always ask it. Lucky in this respect are the graduates of the two year course of the Stockbridge School of Agriculture at the University of Massachusetts. We must successfully complete three to five months training during the summer between the freshman and senior years if we are to receive the Associates Degree. As this year comes to a close, we seniors are looking forward to jobs based on our placement experiences last summer.

The following are quotes from the employers of a few of the one hundred and fifty seniors who returned to the Stockbridge school in September.

George Duggan, a Wood Product major, "George did an excellent job for us in all ways."

Patricia Thayer, a Floriculture major, "All in all, we found Pat a delightful addition to the staff."

Ronald S. Everett, a Food Management major, "Possesses excellent culinary ability."

Thimothy F. Buckley, a Turf major, "He stands out above the mill run of young men of his age group."

W. Bradford Allen, a Food Distribution major, "I would say that he has the makings of a very fine employee."

Joseph Garcia, a Forestry major, "He will be an asset to any position that involves getting along with the general public."

Robert Edgren, an Animal Science major, "Even tempered and ambitious—a good worker."

Nicholas Moore, an Arbiculture major, "He is honest, industrious, and inquisitive."

Roger Kinnear, a Dairy Technology major, "He did a very good job for us and we would like to have him back with us next year if possible."

Touno Aalto, Jr., a Landscape Operations major, "He was very conscientious and we would be glad to have him again."

Earnest St.Pierre, a Poultry major, "Earnest has been without question the best student worker I have ever had."

Raymond Russel, a Vegetable Crop major, "It was a pleasure to have him for placement."

Placement training is an integral part of all Stockbridge major courses for several reasons. Fred P. Jeffrey, Associated Dean of Agriculture says, "I believe these students do better academically in their second year as a direct result of this placement training. The placement program also seems popular with employers since students from successive classes are placed with the same farms and businesses year after year."

From the above statements, we, the Stosag Board will venture to say that placement training is beneficial not only to the employers, but also a tremendous asset in our own education.

IN MEMORIAM

ETHAN HOLDEN

(Machinist-Department of Agricultural Engineering)

Mr. Holden was a devoted laboratory instructor who gained the respect of many classes of Stockbridge School Students. He was always ready to help with mechanical problems in class and out. He will long be remembered as a good friend and advisor.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to his family and his many friends.

POULTRY CLUB & MAJORS

During 1961-62 the Poultry Science Club has expanded its program under the leadership of Ernest St. Pierre as President, Fred Karbott as Vice-President, Nancy R. Smith as Secretary and Treasurer, and Robert T. Smith as faculty advisor.

The initial meeting was a coffee hour held at Stockbridge House on campus, which gave the new members opportunity to meet, informally, with the poultry faculty.

This year the Poultry Club made plans to increase its treasury and several new projects are now underway for present and future members to carry through.

The purposes of the organization are fraternal association with people of similar interests and opportunities to listen to ideas and advice on items of current interests in the total field of Poultry Science.

Highlights of the years activities were movies on current agricultural problems, a chicken barbecue welcoming back Dr. Mellen from Hokkaido, and the traditional banquet.

STOSAG

Through the effort of the members of the year-book staff and their new advisor Dean Jeffery, this year's Stosag has turned out to be a great success. We would like to thank all who had a part in making Stosag the outstanding yearbook that it is. We would like to extend a special thanks to the few freshmen who volunteered their services. Although without the seniors the yearbook would have been an impossible task to complete. The editor is John Brown, assistant editor—Wayne Osborne, business manager—Tom Shearer.

STUDENT SENATE

The Stockbridge Student Senate has proven itself to be the "Voice" of the Student Government, under the leadership of its capable officers: President, James Allen; Vice President, William Cronin; Secretary, Patricia Thayer; Treasurer, Kenneth Stiles; and its Advisor, Professor King.

All the undertakings which the Senate engaged in were successful—from the annual Sno-Ball Dance, held Winter Carnival Weekend, to the 'Progress Banquet held in early spring.

Interest in Senate affairs was high among the students, who showed their interest and support by attending the meetings regularly and electing capable, responsible, senators to represent them.

The Senate wishes to thank the student body for their support in all the undertakings which could never otherwise have been possible.

To Mr. King we extend our sincere thanks for his efforts to help us achieve high standards for ourselves and for the school.

JUDICIARY

The Judiciary for the 1961-62 term did a commendable job of trying cases involving infractions of the Stockbridge rules. Douglas Robertson was elected Chief Justice, Jim Mitchel and Sam D'Angelo served as Senior Justices.

Five candidates were nominated for the three freshman justice positions. Elected as justices were Valerie Coleman and Robert Mullane. John Brennan was chosen as the alternate member and also served as Sargent-at-Arms at the Student Senate meetings.

F. F. A.

The purpose of the chapter is to provide past members of the F.F.A. with practice in leadership training and to assist the Massachusetts Association as acting host at its state judging meets and annual state convocation.

Our chapter is composed of Stockbridge and University Students, who meet every first Tuesday of the month during the school year.

During the course of the year we have planned, besides our regular business meetings, speakers and films on agricultural and its related fields. Also the chapter, as a charter member of the state association, installs officers at other local chapters, set up an exhibit and participated in a radio program during F.F.A. week. Our last activity of the year was the planning of a banquet for members and faculty.

The Stimson-Heald Collegiate Chapter of F.F.A. wish to thank Dr. R. C. Jones for the splendid cooperation he has given us during the past year as our advisor. Our sincere thanks.

ANIMAL SCIENCE CLUB

The Animal Science Club is an organization whose main purpose is to promote the improvement and increase the interest among students of Animal Husbandry. The Club is composed of Stockbridge and University students and is open to active membership for all students who are interested in the field of Animal Science.

Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month and are highlighted by speakers covering different phases of agriculture. Professor Ernest Buck, faculty advisor, and the club officers plan the programs consisting of movies, guest speakers, and entertainment.

The major activity sponsored by the club is the Little International Livestock Show which is held annually in the spring. The club also sponsors a steak fry, held as the last get together of the year.

FLORICULTURE CLUB

1961-62 OFFICERS

President	Everett Emino
Vice President	Eric Wetterlow
Secretary	Patricia Thayer
Treasurer	Peter Seale

The Floriculture Club is a student organization into which all interested students may belong. Membership is comprised primarily of Floriculture majors in the Stockbridge School and the University.

The club meets on the second Tuesday of every month or a short business meeting followed by a guest speaker. This person may be a prominent designer, owner or foreman from a retail florist shop or a large greenhouse.

An annual field trip, which the club takes, allows the students to see the different aspects of this interesting and everchanging field.

LANDSCAPE OPERATION CLUB

The meetings of the Landscape Operations Club were held the second and fourth week of each month in Wilder Hall. Mr. Procopio has been the advisor to the Club. The officers for the 1961-62 season are: President, Don Curran; Vice President, Dick Carem; Secretary, Robert Zac; and Treasurer, Chuck Dooley. The Club is composed of fifty members from both the freshman and senior classes.

A number of guest speakers were invited to discuss the different aspects of landscaping with the students. The following topics have been discussed to date: The Buying and Selling of Nursery Stock in a Garden Store, Estimating of General Landscaping, Preparing Freshmen for Placement Training, and Starting a Tree Landscaping Business. At the close of the meetings, cider and doughnuts were served to the speaker and the students.

Many of the students will be managing a garden center, or a State or City park. Others will be teaching in a secondary school or a college. Some will be engaged in service work. Whatever the future jobs, the club presents an opportunity for the students to obtain some knowledge of the different jobs that the Landscaping field provides.

The University Stewards Club, a division of the Boston Stewards Club, is made up of the Food Management majors at the Stockbridge School. The main purpose of this organization is to further the relationship between its members and the hotel and restaurant industry.

During the past year the Stewards Club catered several parties on campus such as: The International Food Technologist's Luncheon, and President Lederle's Christmas Party.

During the year the seniors were excused from classes to attend the New York Hotel Exposition and the Boston Hotel Show. At the Boston Show meetings were arranged with industries to interview seniors for future employment.

The Stewards, however, do not devote all their time to work. The two big events consisted of a Christmas party and a picnic and dinner dance.

The school year 1961-62 was the third year for the Food Distribution Club. One of the main aims of our club was to build a better relationship between the club and the Food Distribution Industry. Our business meetings were held every two weeks with a guest speaker or a film as entertainment.

The club took field trips to the Stop & Shop Warehouse in Reedville, Mass. and the Springfield Sugar Company Warehouse in Windsor Locks, Conn. Our Senior class members and advisors, Prof. Theodore Leed and Prof. Donald Marion, took a five day field trip to Washington D. C., Philadelphia, Penn., and the New Jersey area. We visited Food Distribution operations in these areas.

We held a banquet in May as our final event of the year. This banquet was paid for by our club dues. These dues also paid for field trip expenses and expenses incurred by having special speakers for some of our meetings.

ARBORICULTURE CLUB

The traditional Arbor Club contest between seniors and freshmen started the events for the 1961-62 academic year. This contest consisted of necessary talents in the Arbor field; (1) tree climbing, (2) foot-locking, (3) shinnying, (4) line throwing, and (5) cross-cut sawing. Much to the dismay of the freshmen, the upperclassmen proved their seniority by winning with a narrow margin.

Regular meetings were held the fourth Thursday of each month, led by President, Robert E. McCarthy; Secretary-Treasurer, John A. Lehto; and Advisor, Professor Gordon S. King. Many of the meetings were supplemented with guest speakers, who were experts in their field. These talks furnished advice, wisdom and pertinent information for the learning Arborists.

During the Horticulture Show, club members were in charge of stringing bracing cables for stabilizing large decorative trees. They also decorated entryways and displayed an exhibit of spray materials.

The annual club party high-lighted the year's activities.

Special Events

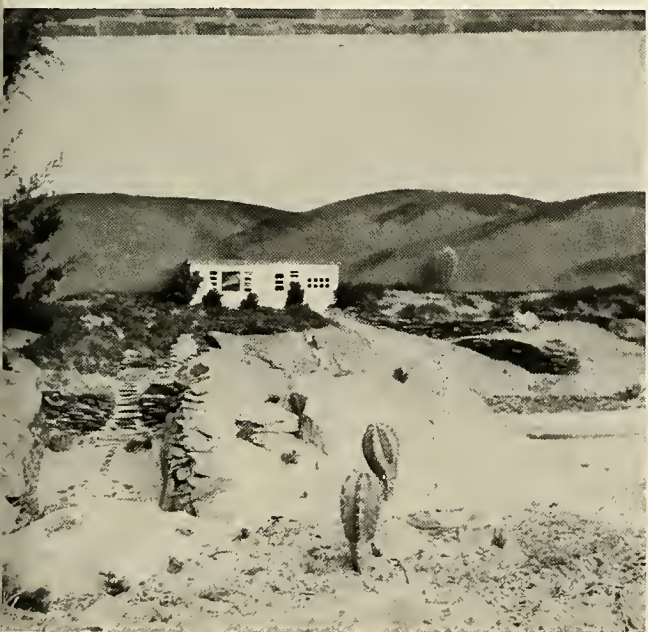

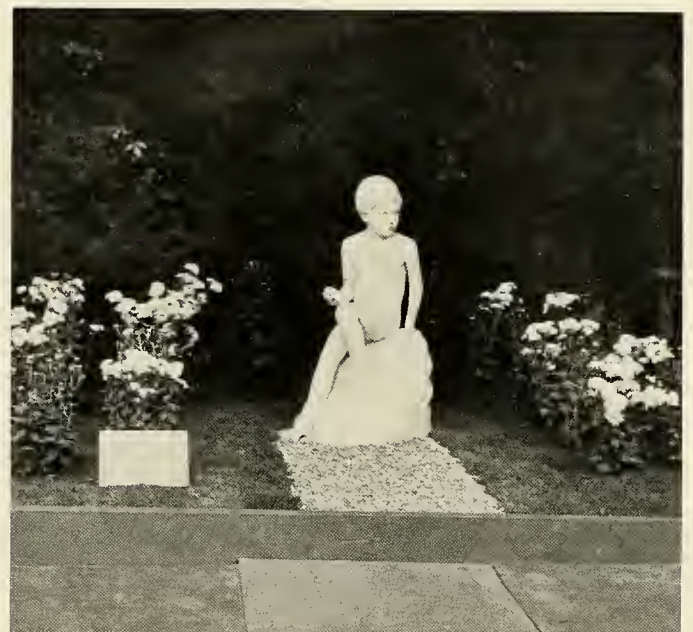

HORTICULTURE SHOW

"Carnival of Flowers," this year's theme of the forty ninth Annual Horticultural Show, proved to be one of the most colorful and fascinating shows ever produced on the University of Massachusetts Campus.

A carnival setting was attained by the use of a midway, complete with flower bearing rides and side shows. The show was further enhanced by many excellent department and student displays.

With the superb planning of the faculty and cooperation of the students, this years show was one that will be long and pleasantly remembered by all concerned.

SNO-BALL DANCE

This year's Winter Carnival Weekend was the most successful social event ever held in the School's history.

We danced to the fine music of Jimmy Martin and his Orchestra.

The highlights of the evening was the choosing of the Snoball Queen and her court, followed by the grand march.

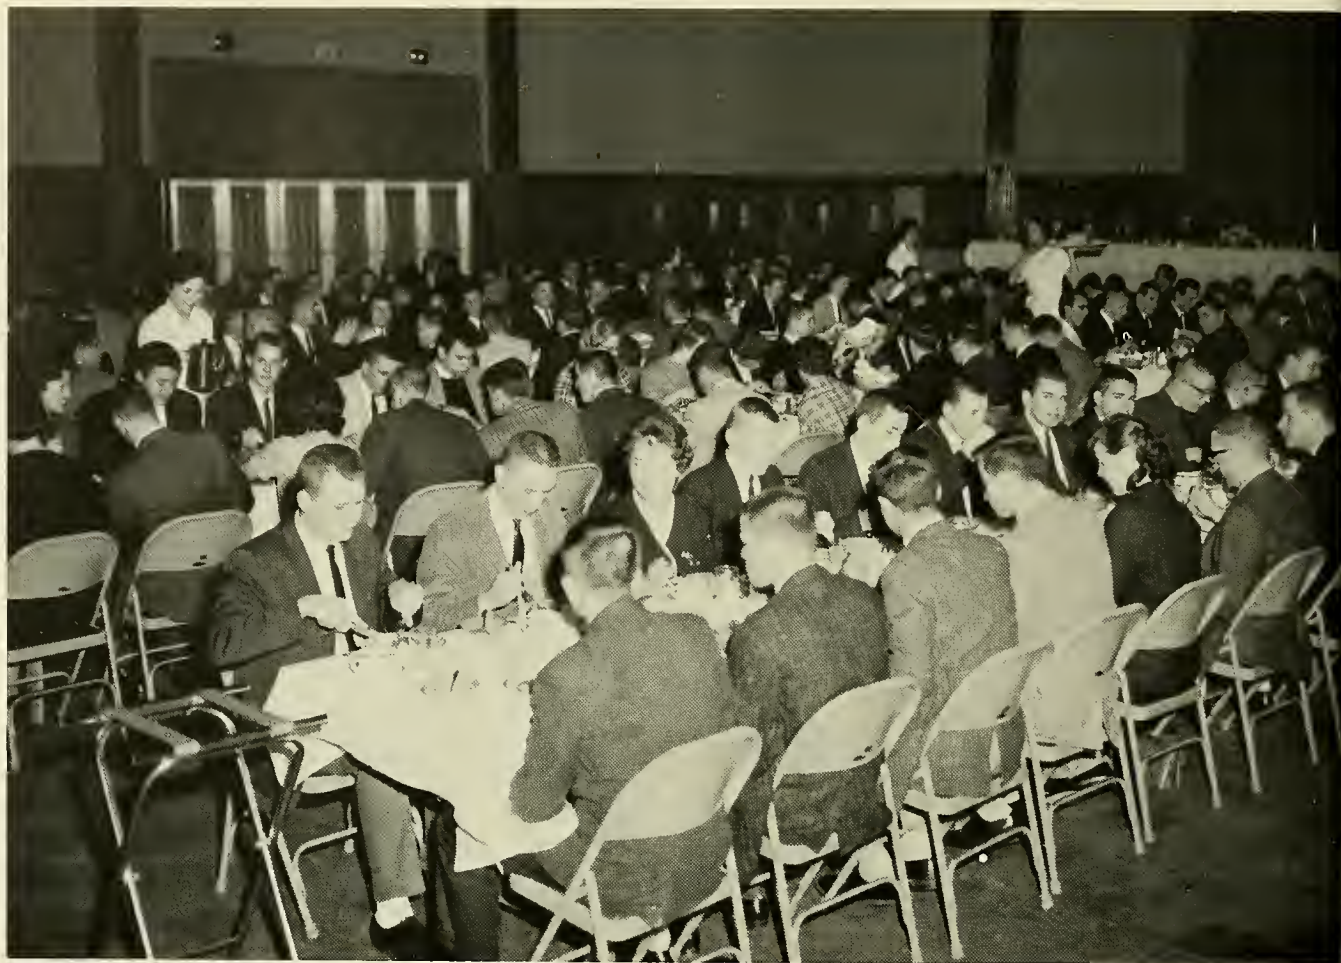

Our honored guests were President and Mrs. Lederle, President and Mrs. Plimpton of Amherst College, Provost and Mrs. Woodside, and Dean and Mrs. Jeffrey.

They along with the other couples thoroughly enjoyed dancing at the Ballroom decorated in the theme of "Continental Flare."

To all that attended, the Sno-Ball Dance proved to be the climax of a perfect weekend.

SNO-BALL CANDIDS

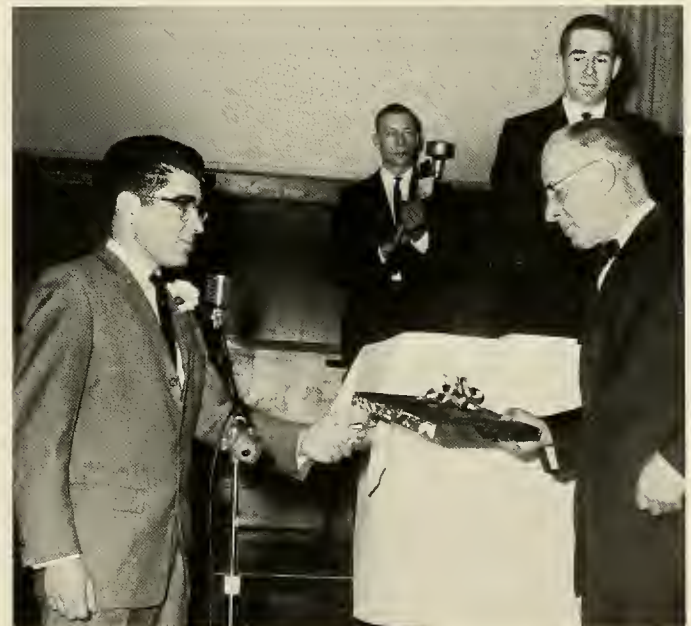

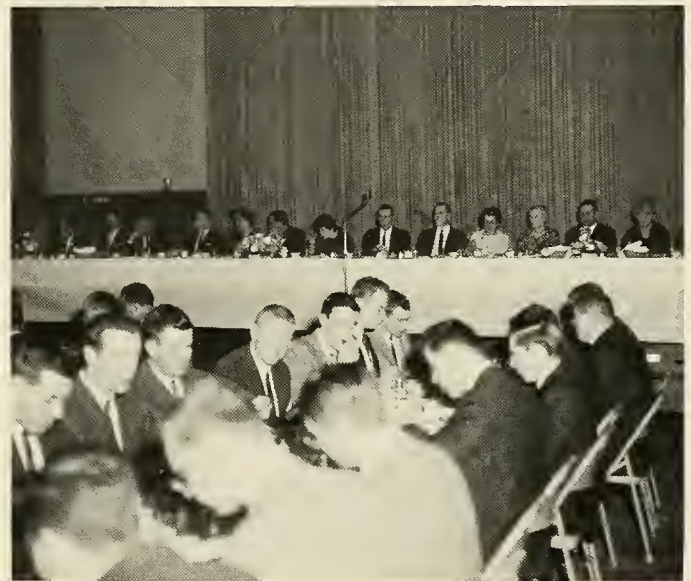

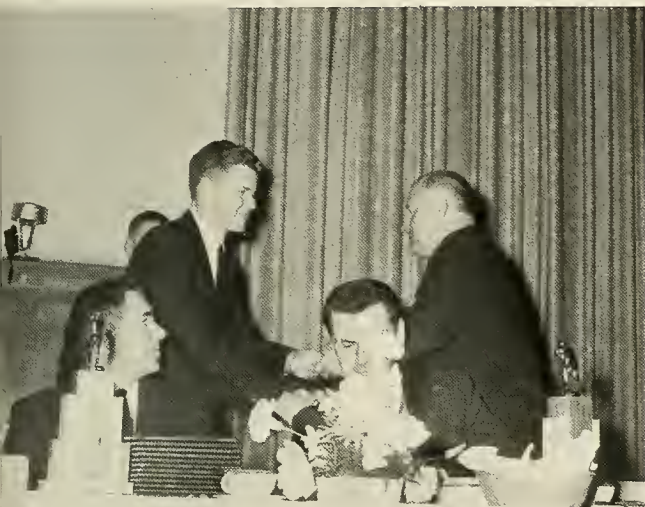

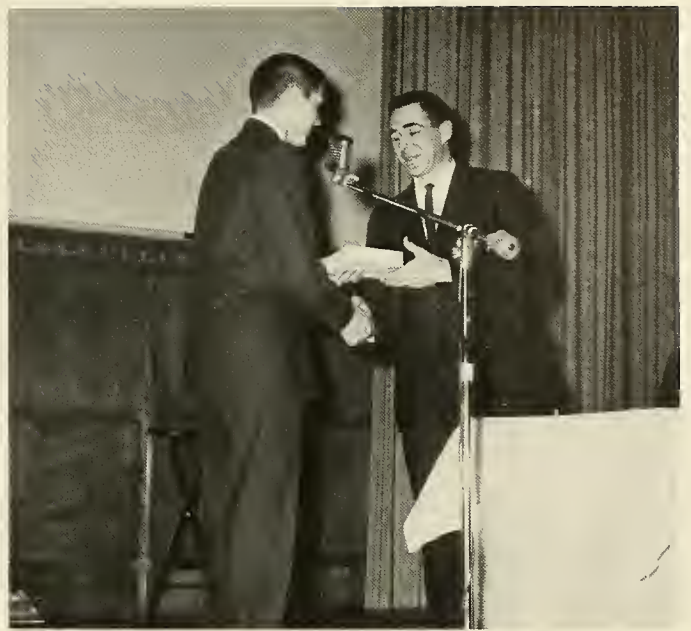

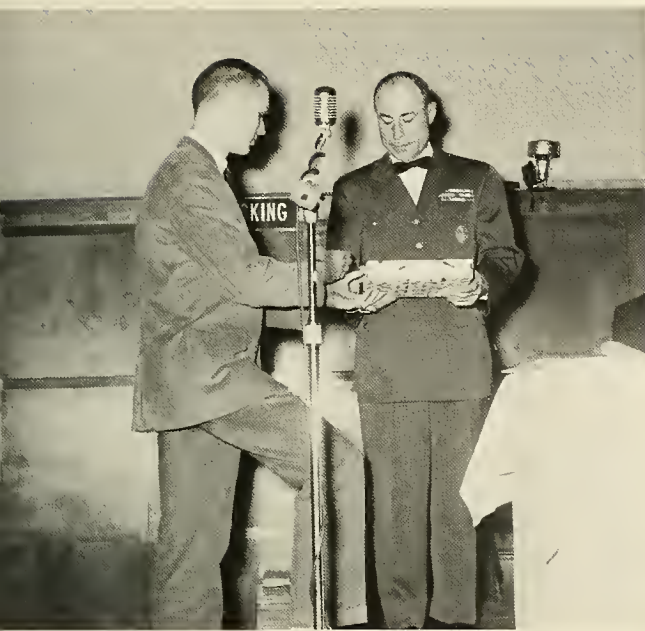

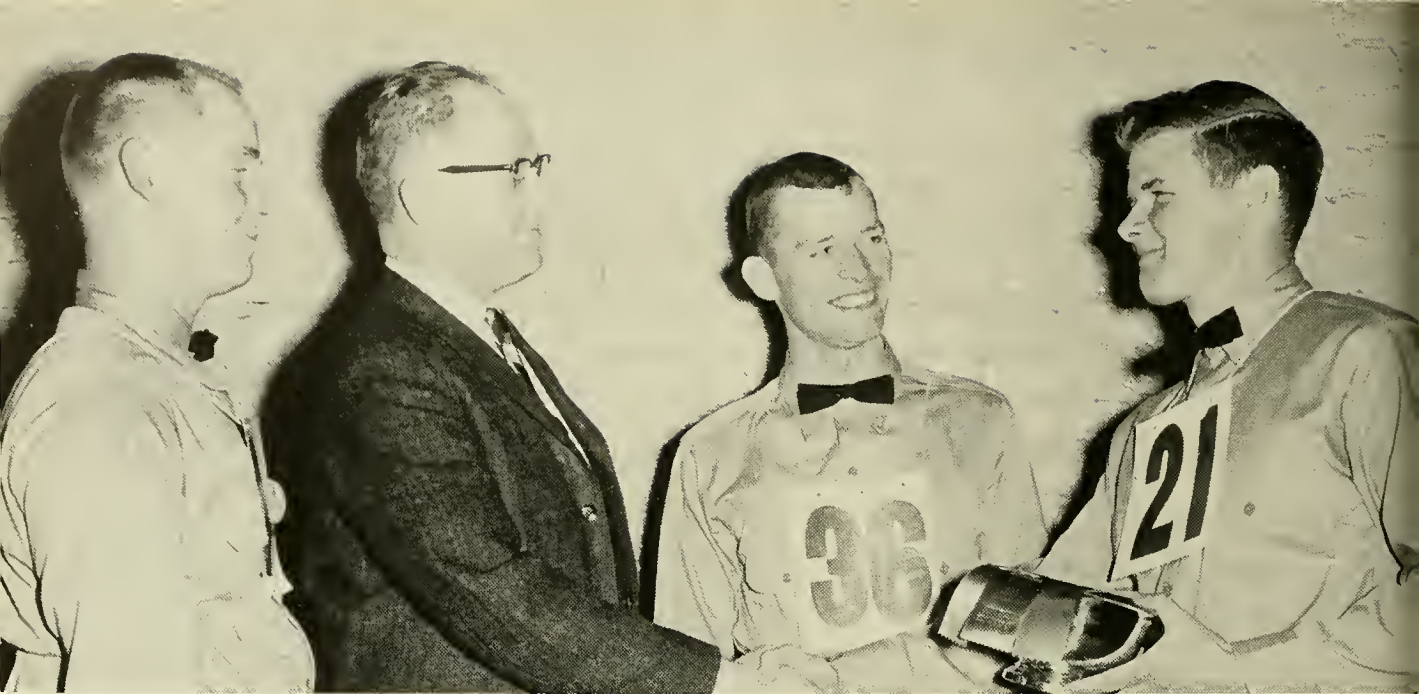

PROGRESS BANQUET

The eighth annual Progress Banquet was held on March 6, 1962 in the ballroom of the Student Union. We all enjoyed a fine roast beef dinner which was prepared by the Student Union Catering Service.

Following tradition Dean Jeffery announced the members of Stosag. Coach Kosakowski presented the football awards and John Brown was voted the teams most valuable player. Next Coach Berquist presented the basketball awards with Ted Hyland receiving the most valuable player award. Joseph Faucette, coach of recently formed hockey team presented his awards. Neil Malkasian received the most valuable player award. To end the evening Colonel Marchant, coach of the rifle team, presented awards to the members of his team with Brad Allen voted the most valuable player. The Floriculture Class presented Professor Ross with a farewell gift as a token of their appreciation.

Congratulations to all those who represented Stockbridge so well in so many fields of interest and those who worked to organize the banquet.

LITTLE INTERNATIONAL

The 22nd. Annual Little International Livestock Show was presented on March 17, 1962 by the University Animal Science Seniors.

The students are judged on their ability to prepare, fit and show the animal which they have selected. They are not judged on the conformation of the animal because they do not breed or feed the animals.

To prepare for the show the students started six weeks before and groomed and trained their animals to the best of their ability.

The top winners were John Brown Premier, Douglas Briggs Reserve Premier, and Orrin Mason Honorable mention.

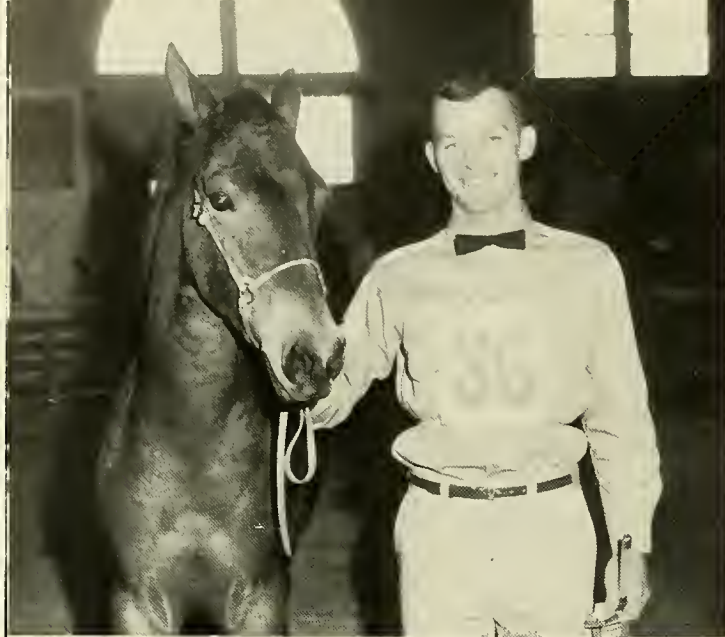

For special events the girls put on a most enjoyable "Co-Ed Milking Contest" which was a lot of laughs. They also had some equestrian riders which showed two of the saddle horse breeds and Bill Monahan showed our own Flintlock.

FOOTBALL

Another fall has come and gone as the Stockbridge School of Agriculture completed its last season of football.

The boys started their season at home against a big, talented, Worcester Academy eleven. Worcester's overall depth and experience gained them a 44 to 0 victory.

A week later the "blue and white" journeyed to Mount Hermon Academy and put up a good battle but lost 31 to 0. Deerfield Academy another well drilled prep school, was our third opponent and they were victorious 32 to 0.

With a week off between tilts, Coach Steve Koskowski and the team worked hard for the Monson game. By this time the squad was recovering from a long list of injuries and was sharpening up on their plays.

Certainly the high spot of the season was when Stockbridge defeated Monson Academy 28 to 16. The game was played under the lights at Alumni Field before an enthusiastic gathering of Stockbridge rooters. Captain John Brown, playing quarterback, alternated himself and hard driving fullback Ken Rodel on drives through the opponent's line. Coach Kosakowski substituted freely with some of the reserves giving a good account of themselves. The visitors didn't dent our goal line until halfway through the final period. John Brown, who called an outstanding ball game, was awarded the game ball.

All right guys. Let's play ball!

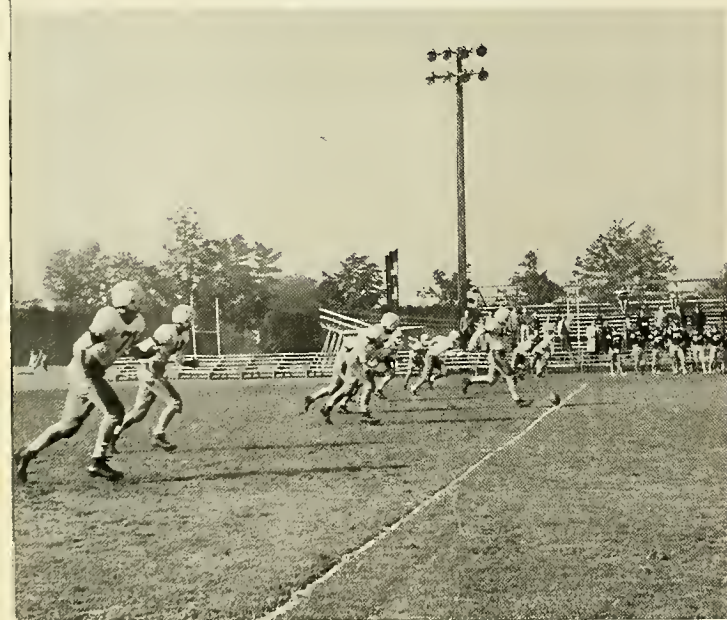

Slap that pigskin in!

Coming right back on the following Saturday the Kosakowski-men faced Winchendon Prep on a perfect afternoon for football. At the halfway mark the score was knotted 6 to 6. However the visitor's big squad tired us in the last period as we fell short 24 to 6. It was a well played and hard fought ball game. Senior end Everett Henderson, who played an aggressive game, was awarded the game ball.

Instead of the traditional last game of the season with the University of Massachusetts's freshmen squad we hung up our cleats and challenged them to a game of soccer. With just one day of practice we gave them a run for their money but lost a nip and tuck one, 1 to 0.

Under the capable coaching of Steve Kosakowski, football at Srockbridge has provided recreation, relaxation and enjoyment for all the participants. We hope that next fall as a new soccer program commences that the same cooperation, standards of fair play and team work on which a successful team is built will be followed.

We thank Coach Kosakowski for his untiring efforts and extend to him the very best wishes for the future.

Send it for a ride, Dave.

What's up, Coach?

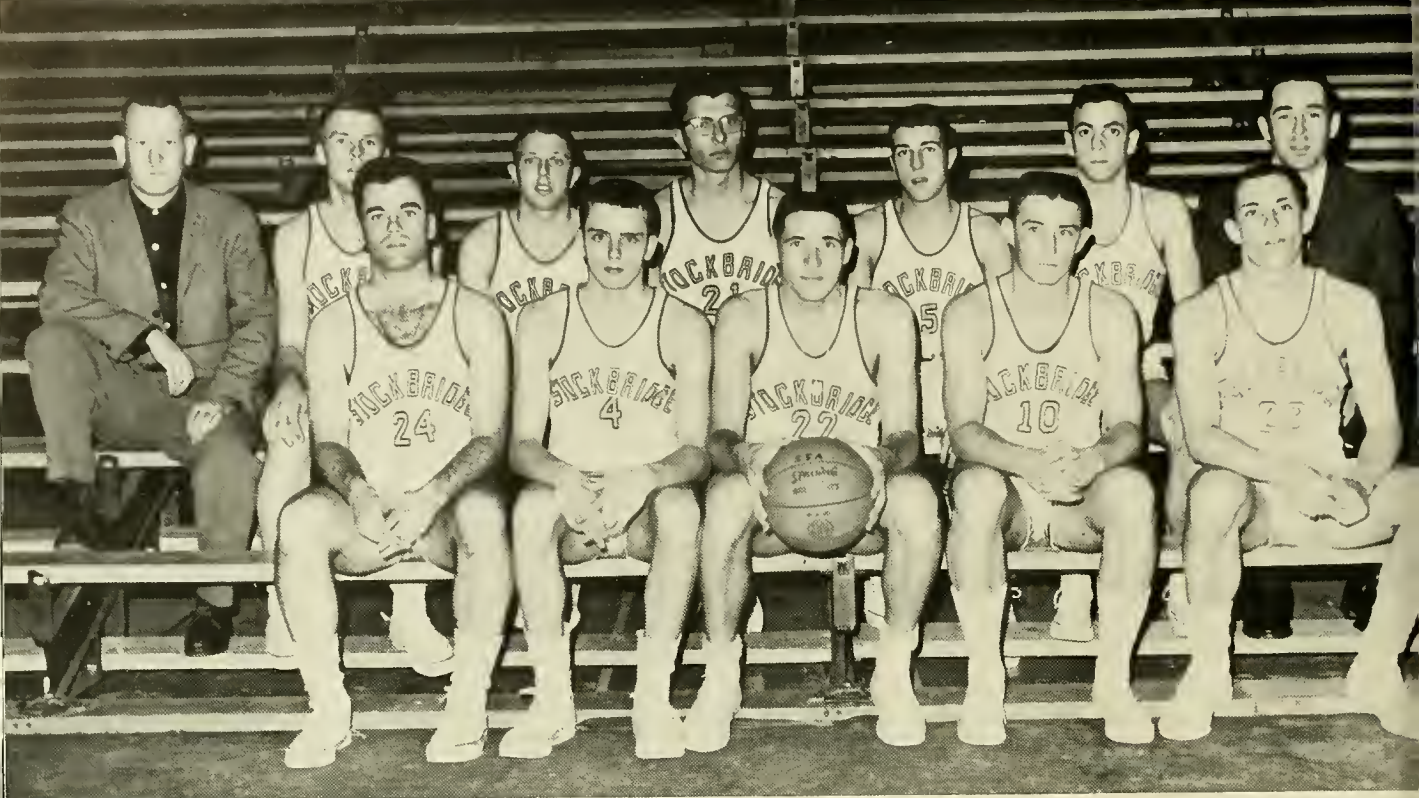

Rodel goes up the middle.

Go get him gang!

Go Eddie, go!

BASKETBALL

Stockbridge opened its 1961-62 Basketball Season at the Cage with a promising double overtime 52-50 victory over a visiting Windsor Mountain Prep School. Bruce Dearborn 6' 4" pivotman, led the way with 17 points followed by guard Paul Bernard and Captain Ted Hyland with 13 and 9 markers respectively.

Our second game found us losing to a scrappy Holyoke Junior College, 74-66, on their small home court. Freshmen Bernard and Dearborn led the way with eighteen points each. Another tense overtime win at Northampton Commercial College 70-68 avenged our loss last year to the host team. Ted Hyland, a fine leader all season long, scored twenty-six points.

Following Christmas Vacation, Stockbridge defeated Mount Hermon School, 44-31; Winchendon Prep School, 66-45; Deerfield Academy, 57-46 to finish with a five win and one loss slate at the mid-semester break. Once again Hyland, Bernard, and Dearborn along with Bill Quist and Bruce Perry played prominent roles in these victories.

Upon returning from vacation Coach Berquist was faced with the loss of a couple of key ball players due to scholastic difficulties. However the team outhustled a visiting Mount Hermon School five, 51-47, for their sixth victory. Jeff Silverman led the team with twelve points and Bill Quist took care of the rebound department and scored ten.

The team then ran up against a smooth powerhouse—the University of Massachusetts Freshmen squad—losing their second game of the season. We put up a good fight but their starting front court, all hovering over the magic six foot mark, gained an easy 73-34 decision.

One of the season's highlights was a real team victory 64-62 at the Cage against Northampton Commercial College. Ted Hyland again grabbed high scoring laurels with 25 followed by floor general Paul Bernard who tallied 15.

Ted Hyland goes up for two points.

Stockbridge lost a heartbreaker at Deerfield Academy by just three points. Leading by four points with just a minute left to play, our boys bowed to a close defending, spirited home club that pulled through a 47-44 victory.

Senior Bruce Perry's sixteen points along with Bill Quist's nine highlighted our second double overtime victory at the expense of Winchendon Prep School, 45-44. The game was another nip and tuck affair but Perry's five points in the second overtime period clinched the game.

In our season's final, the game with Worcester Academy was postponed, so we challenged an experienced Athol Y.M.C.A. Club. Trailing 31-19 at halftime our team skyrocketed to a fifty point second half, but it wasn't enough as the talented sharpshooters from Athol gained a 93-70 hard fought decision.

Captain Ted Hyland totaled 348 points during his two year career and was selected as the team's Most Valuable Player.

Coach Dick Bergquist, in his second year, and the team are to be congratulated on giving Stockbridge one of its best seasons of recent years. Regarding next year's prospects Coach Bergquist can afford to be quite optimistic with such hopefuls as Bruce Bearborn, Bill Quist, Jim Gilligan, Tom Duffy, Dennis Pearl, Bud Pickard, Mike Sikora, Jeff Silverman, Bill Vasquez, and Captain elect Paul Bernard returning—why shouldn't Coach Bergquist be smiling?

Paul Bernard lets one go.

Jim Gilligan fights to get away, as Bud Pickard and Denny Peael look on.

HOCKEY

This was our first season of organized hockey under the direction of Coach Joe Faucette. Opening practice sessions began with a vigorous group of candidates led by seniors Neil Malkasian, Dean Robertson, Pat Maroney, Bob Anderson, and Ken Stribley.

However the squad dwindled to only nine members as the team lost its opener to Deerfield Academy, 4-1. Stockbridge did well in their next game and tied Worcester, 3-3.

Our final game was played at Mount Hermon with the home club gaining a 7-4 verdict. The team skated with the winners for two periods but once again depth was the deciding factor.

At the Progress Banquet Coach Faucette praised the members of the team for dedication and hard work at practice. Neil Malkasian for his overall leadership and ability was the recipient of the most valuable player award.

Next year's returning veterans, John Rosato, Dave Mullins, Eddie Sheehan, and Ralph Liebro, give Coach Raucette a fine nucleus with which to work.

RIFLE TEAM

1961-62 marked the third year of active competition for the Stockbridge Rifle Team under Coach Colonel Marchant with 20 opponents scheduled from California to Maine.

Club Officers this year were: President, Loren Valley; Secretary-Treasurer, Donald Blood; and Executive Officer and Team Captain, W. Bradford Allen.

Up to the publishing time Stockbridge had won 9 out of the 18 matches fired in its 20 match schedule. Highlights of the season were victories over the Yale Freshmen at New Haven Connecticut in a shoulder to shoulder match and on February 10 at Worcester the team edged out two big wins over the Holy Cross and Harvard Freshmen teams.

Team Captain Brad Allen, classified as an expert marksman with 275 out of a possible 300 points by the National Rifle Association, was awarded the team's most valuable player trophy.

As the yearbook goes to press Stockbridge has one match remaining in the National Intercollegiate Sectional at Providence, Rhode Island. We wish Colonel Marchant and the team the best of luck.

There's an association here.

Woof! this stuff is great.

One more and they will carry me out.

See, it's great for teeth, too.

How old are you sonny?

Drink up you guys, here comes the waitress.

That girl behind you needs a match fella.

Who me drink?

Hey kid, use your glass.

ALPHA TAU GAMMA

As time draws near for us to say goodbye to A. T. G. we look back over the highlights of the past year. Down the corridor of time A. T. G. has been perpetuated as "a home away from home." The brothers have shown this deep concern for A. T. G. by contributing, in every possible way, towards its future growth and development.

Alpha Tau Gamma was founded in 1919, exactly 42 years ago. Our house contains the youngest group of brothers and pledges of any house on campus. Each year young men of all races, creeds, and personalities are bound together by a special dedication of devotion, obedience, brotherhood and prestige, to carry our house and its constitution to where we stand today.

This fraternity is by far the most outstanding on campus. We may not win football games or other interfraternity affairs but we contribute the highest percentage of individual participation overall throughout the year. Being only a two year fraternity our pledges make a complete change in just five months to officers and leaders to run next years group. This accomplishment is by far, more outstanding than any house on the university campus.

This sudden change of personel can only be accomplished by hard vigorous training and sweat, both mental and physical.

A pledge must be stripped of self pride and only in humility can he see, feel and group himself and fellow pledges together in brotherhood and devotion to his house.

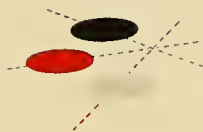

Life is an obstacle course, we must be versatile and think out every situation, straining our emotions while remaining in a nonpartisan frame of mind. For only in a fraternity can we learn early in life those certain features of mankind which make us successful. New spirit was found with more group participation bringing about a much closer fraternal life. Through this spirit our thoughts toward the house shall never change, no matter what situations we will later find ourselves involved in.

Fraternity men are made, not born, and like the seed cast on good soil will yield and become fruitful.
